

Antonio FILOSA

Chief Operating Officer, North America

Brand CEO, Jeep®

Antonio Filosa is Chief Operating Officer (COO) for North America, Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the Jeep® brand and has been a member of the Stellantis Top Executive Team since January 2021. Previously, he served as COO for South America.

He has extensive experience in purchasing and manufacturing operations, as well as overall business management and strategy.

He joined the Fiat Group in 1999 where he assumed roles of increasing responsibility, including plant manager of the Betim facility (Brazil) and Head of Purchasing for the Latin America region.

Filosa also served as the Head of Argentina as well as the Head of Alfa Romeo and Maserati brands for the Latin America region, positions he held from 2016 and 2018, respectively.

He served as COO for FCA's Latin America region and was a member of the FCA Group Executive Council from March 2018.

Filosa holds a master's degree in engineering from Politecnico di Milano (Italy).