

Clara Ingen-Housz
Chief Corporate Affairs and Communications Officer

Clara Ingen-Housz is Chief Corporate Affairs and Communications Officer and a member of Stellantis' Executive Team.

Before joining Stellantis in 2024, she served as Chief Ethics, Compliance & Privacy Officer and Group Legal Counsel for Competition Law, Anticorruption and Economic Sanctions at Saint-Gobain starting in 2019.

From 2010, Clara was based in Hong Kong where she led, as a partner at Linklaters, the firm's Asia Pacific competition law practice. Previously, she practiced law in New York for 10 years at Sullivan & Cromwell and Simpson Thacher & Bartlett, focusing on antitrust and international arbitration. For two years, she was also a member of the European Commission's Legal Service (Competition team) in Brussels.

A French and Dutch national, Clara is a graduate of Paris II-Panthéon Assas School of Law in Paris and Harvard Law School in the U.S. She also holds an economics degree from Sciences Po in Paris. Clara is admitted to the New York, Paris and Hong Kong Bars.

(Updated February 2025)