

Mark STEWART
Chief Operating Officer
North America

Mark Stewart was appointed Chief Operating Officer (COO) for North America and a member of Stellantis' Top Executive Team in January 2021.

He has extensive experience in global operations management including procurement, manufacturing, business development and engineering.

He spent the first years of his career in manufacturing with TRW Inc., and later Tower Automotive, Inc. where he served as Director of Operations and Executive Vice President. Stewart has been based in the U.S., Belgium, Germany and China with a variety of experiences in production, quality and engineering.

Since 2006, Stewart held positions of increasing responsibility at TRW and from 2015 served as Executive Vice President and COO for ZF TRW Automotive.

Stewart was named Vice President of Operations for Amazon in 2017 where he was the lead executive for customer fulfillment across 200 operations facilities in North America. In this position, he also was responsible for overseeing operations, procurement, construction and engineering with teams dedicated to pursuing automation, artificial intelligence, advanced robotics and conveyance.

He was appointed COO for FCA's North America region and named a member of the Group Executive Council in December 2018.

Stewart holds a master of business administration from the University of Tennessee (Knoxville, Tennessee) and a bachelor's degree in engineering from Vanderbilt University (Nashville, Tennessee).