

STELLANTIS – LIST OF REFINERS IN OUR DIRECT MATERIAL SUPPLY CHAIN FOR HIGH-VOLTAGE BATTERIES

Stellantis is committed to growth founded on socially-responsible actions and behaviors in all countries in which it operates and in all fields in which it does business.

Stellantis is actively practicing its due diligence to comply with social standards all along its supply chain and more specifically on risks connected with low-emission mobility (electric and hybrid vehicles). Therefore, we have chosen RCS Global and NQC as our partners to execute our project on raw material transparency. We are mapping and auditing the supply chain of our high-voltage battery suppliers. Audits are conducted based on the OECD Due Diligence Guidance. The key figures, as of August 1, 2021 (*) are:

- ➔ 149 suppliers identified all along the supply chain, from the mine to our plants;
- ➔ 42 audits done, including 21 action plans agreed by the suppliers.

This list shows Lithium, Cobalt and Nickel refiners identified in the Stellantis supply chain:

Material	Country	Name	Material	Country	Name
Cobalt	China	Huayou Zhejiang	Cobalt	China	China Greatpower
Cobalt	China	Huayou Quzhou	Cobalt	China	Jiangxi Ruida
Cobalt	Finland	Umicore	Cobalt	China	Zhejiang Sansheng

The following list shows the countries of origin where mines are located:

Material	Country of origin (Mine)
Cobalt	Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC), New Caledonia, Papua New Guinea, Madagascar, Russia, Turkey, Australia
Lithium	Australia, Argentina, Brazil, China, USA
Nickel	Australia, Indonesia, New Caledonia, China, Papua New Guinea
Graphite	China
